Dan,

We wanted to take the opportunity to thank you for all that you did for us in getting our house back together. We couldn't be any happier with the work that was done by Old World Roofing as well as the various contractors that you referred to us.

You definitely went above and beyond to make sure we were taken of, from the initial meeting with the insurance agent all the way through to the installation of the gutters, which by the way are wonderful. You have no idea what a relief it is to know that our ongoing water issues have finally been resolved, and appreciate your patience with us on that front.

Again, thank you for everything!

Re: 526 Sheffield Avenue, Webster Groves, MO 63119

Dear Mr. Hagerty:

As you know, this past Monday afternoon, Ricky Dungey and his crew, consisting of Joe Taylor, Randy Davis and Scott Bradbury completed the roofing project at our home at 526 Sheffield Avenue in Webster Groves. Brian and his crew are completing the downspouts this week.

To say the least, my wife and I are very pleased with the work on the roof by Ricky and his crew. We know that we will be as pleased with the downspouts currently being finished by Brian.

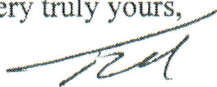

Every day the roofing crew arrived on time and went promptly about their work in completing the project. At the end of the day, they were diligent in cleaning up from their work that day.

The quality of the work is exceptional and we continue to receive many compliments from people just walking by the house and seeing the work.

I certainly value a good job and have not been disappointed by your company's work.

While I have individually thanked each member of Ricky's crew for their work, I wanted to make sure that you were aware of our feelings regarding the hard work of these gentlemen and the quality product they produced.

Very truly yours,

Theodore J. Williams, Jr.

Dan -

I know that most people probably write you with complaints more than compliments so I wanted to buck that trend and let you know what a tremendous asset you have in John Chiapelas. John has gone above and beyond the call of duty in taking care of my needs, providing astute counsel in dealing with my insurance company and advocating for what I am due. As a single homeowner, I can't tell you how much it is appreciated.

I have dealt with some of your competitors in the past and I only wish I had known about Old World Roofing sooner. They would never have received my business!

Take good care of John - they don't make them like him much anymore!

Dear Dan and Jose,

It is raining and that reminds me of how embarrassingly late this letter of appreciation is. Every time it rains, I think of you both with gratitude because the house stays dry and I don't even have to worry that it won't. And that is thanks to you.

Dan, we appreciate the help you gave us during that long struggle to resolve the issues with the unsatisfactory and substandard roof put up by the other roofer who shall remain nameless. Without your help, we would never have been able to successfully resolve that situation.

Jose, please count this as three endorsements of your work as Ron and Rebecca join me in expressing appreciation for the beautiful, perfect roof you applied. There wasn't a day during the time you worked that we didn't enjoy having you here as you worked diligently and always with pride in your work.

And we thank both of you for making certain we were satisfied with every aspect of the process, even going through the lengthy, frustrating process of getting the rounded gutter for the turret. Every time I look at the roof, I think of you both with appreciation.

We tell everyone the story of our roof and how much you helped us as well as how satisfied we are. I hope that you will use us as references and as very satisfied customers of Old World Roofing!

Dear Cullen,

Several neighbors and friends have commented how attractive our new Vermont slate roof looks. Even my wife Susie, who in the past, said "A roof is a roof...Who cares" has now become a fan of Old World Roofing and now says "It was worth the wait for the best".

Your crew was very professional. We were pleasantly surprised at their thoroughness and efforts in meeting the inevitable unexpected challenges, which often surface in the middle of a construction project. Experienced craftsmen, like yours, wanting to do the best job, will point out potential problems, a homeowner might not notice. In our case, David and Chuck, developed sound and practical solutions which will result in the best long term outcome. At the completion of their fine work, everything was also cleaned thoroughly as well.

We are now confident our home is well protected, at least on top, from any weather elements. We also believe, our home's value has been significantly enhanced by the quality and beauty of the work your company performed.

Please feel free to use us as a reference.

John,

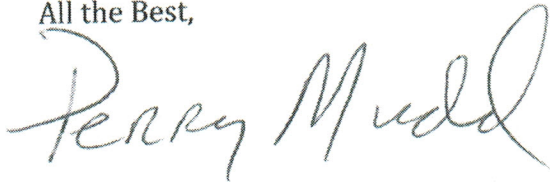

Thank you for all of your hard work.

We encountered some challenges, where you were able to enlist the right people to get the problems solved. I am grateful for your work with the insurance company to gain necessary approvals.

Neighbors have said: "there are other homes in the neighborhood having their roof and gutters replaced. The difference is that my house looks like it was done by people who take pride in their work"

John, thanks for hanging in there with me on this journey!

Feb 13, 2012

Dear Dan,

This letter is WAY overdue and not even sure how to start to show my appreciation for your friendship and all that you and your family and 'boys' (company) have done for me and my family. In fact, you are still helping me out and don't even know it! I was reminded that I still needed to write to you after using you as an example while parenting my oldest boy, Conrad who is finishing up his senior year at Principia High School. Conrad has been getting in trouble for not getting out of the sack in the morning and being late to school. I couldn't help myself for sharing a story about my good buddy, Dan Hagerty. I actually think I had shared it with him before - but you never can tell what gets through in a high schooler's head.

The story was about how a roofing contractor friend of mine was ALWAYS on time for EVERY meeting that we set up together. I am sure that this was not a big deal for you - but it made a huge impression on me - so much that it made me want to be punctual for everything that I do. I know how you made me feel when you were ALWAYS early to every appointment, which made me want to act the same way towards others. This small act of kindness has shown me that I am really being very selfish if I am late to events where other people are involved. Not only is being punctual a great quality to express, but as you have shown me, it allows you and your company to focus on service and quality - two things you have accomplished incredibly well that have brought you success.

I can't tell you how touched I was to receive a copy of the letter that John sent to the new homeowners telling them that Old World Roofing would be happy to stand behind the tile roof that you all installed on our home. Happy - yes but not really surprised, because it all fits in the same pattern as showing up early when you are meeting someone. It is clear to me that you and your family have been blessed by success because of your actions like this. And I for one feel that I have been blessed just by knowing you and the great guys that you work with. Please give my very best to your family and all the boys that still remember me.

Please accept this small token of appreciation for our many years of knowing each other. Would you mind taking your crew out for a nice dinner on me and let them all know how much I appreciate them as well.

Thanks again for everything Dan. If you and Gina ever get out to Maine - you had better give me a call. Would love to put you guys up and show you around at all the cool roofs out here.

All my best,

Jamie

January 7, 2011

I had a great experience with Old World Roofing Company and the recent work they completed on the roof of my house.

In late summer, I realized that I had a problem with my roof because I had some water damage in both of my upstairs bedrooms. My neighbor recommended Old World Roofing because they had done substantial work on his roof and he was very pleased with the results. My neighbor has a slate roof like I do so I called and John Chiapelas met me at my house. John set up a time to do an inspection and told me he suspected there was hail damage to my roof.

I called my insurance company and an adjuster met with John and I the following week. John went on the roof with the adjuster and it was agreed that I had suffered hail damage to many of the slates on my roof. John explained the root of the damage to the adjuster and then sent me an estimate of the cost involved to repair the roof. The adjuster agreed with John's assessment and sent me a check.

In a timely manner the roofers for Old World showed up and completed the extensive repair to my roof. The workers were courteous, industrious, and cleaned the area around my house every day after they were finished working on the roof. They showed up every morning at 7AM. John kept in constant touch with me to apprise me of their progress.

I think the roof looks great and I was very pleased with how I was treated and the professionalism displayed by everyone I dealt with at Old World Roofing Company.

Dear John:

Simply said, you and your team at Old World Roofing did an outstanding job with the repairs and replacement of portions of our slate roof, copper gutters, flashing and downspouts at our home on Wydown Boulevard. Thank you! Thank you!

We had been putting up with repairs done again and again by other St. Louis roofing companies but after each of their repairs we found that the leaks returned. I decided to try Old World Roofing instead and called and asked you to take a look at the problems. You came out and quickly identified several potential sources of the leaks and potential solutions, and also noted that our slate roof appeared to have some hail damage which could be further contributing to the leaking problems. You wrote up what you saw so we could talk with our property insurance company (State Farm) about their possible reimbursement for repairs to the roof. The insurance adjuster agreed with Old World Roofing on virtually every issue, including the hail damage. A few weeks later State Farm told us that our insurance policy would cover the cost of almost all the recommended repairs to the roof. Old World Roofing did an excellent job of completing the replacements to the slate, the copper gutters, downspouts and flashings. In fact, you went beyond our expectations. Because of Old World Roofing, and you John, and your team's abilities to identify problems and come up with solutions that our insurance company and I agreed with, our family gained a top-notch roof for a very reasonable cost. I highly recommend you and Old World Roofing. I would be glad to be a reference for you even though we now live in Chicago.

Dear Mr. Haggerty:

We are extremely pleased with the recent repairs made by your crew to our 1915 tile roof. We greatly appreciate not only their skillful workmanship but also their thoughtfulness and care. They consistently left a clean work area at the end of the day and were mindful of our landscaping.

Thank you also for performing the extra work discovered by your crew during the repair process. It is rare to find a company that not only identifies additional problems during the repair, but then takes the initiative to fix the issue. In addition, including the extra work within the original bid for time and materials was very unexpected and generous.

We greatly appreciate your generosity and skill and look forward to working with you in the future.

To The Future Customers
of Old World Roofing Company:

I would like to recommend
Old World Roofing as a top quality roofing company. Why?

1. They have an excellent business record with the Better Business Bureau
2. They performed an outstanding job on my slate roof at 7401 Woodland Way.
3. The subcontractor, Hyde Sheet Metal Co. also performed an outstanding job replacing the gutter system.
4. Specifically, John Chiapelas coordinated the duties of his workers and the subcontractor in a professional manner.
5. John also provided valuable roofing advice and he is a man of his word.

I will definitely utilize Old World Roofing for any future slate roofing work.

We have been living in our house for seven years now and in that time we have had a Ton of work done to our home.

All the contracts that we have signed, I have never felt as "at ease", as I have and that is 100% because of you.

The first day you arrived at our house to begin the roof repairs, you informed me how long you thought the job would take, who you were and if I needed anything to please talk to you.

I have never seen somebody work as dedicated and as hard as you. It shows in the work you do how much you love your job! From unloading your truck daily, coordinating all your guests, "covering" for absent man power and cleaning up everyday before you left, that always gave two hundred percent!

Once I saw you working, I was completely confident that our roof was going to be done exceptionally well and all worries about the financial end of these repairs went away! As a home owner, that is priceless!

What an asset you are to Old World Roofing and what a privilege it has been having you to do the repairs on our home!

Thank you so much, Sam!

Mark Abeln
8423 Big Bend
St. Louis MO 63119

To whom it may concern:

We are writing this letter of reference for Old World Roofing and Mark Abeln. In late 2006 we decided to undertake historic restoration of the mansard roof on our 83-year-old building. After carefully considering several bids to restore existing shingle tile roofing on the mansard to its historic clay tile on our duplex at 6633 San Bonita Avenue, Clayton, MO 63105, we chose Mr. Hagerty's Old World Roofing Company. Unlike other bidders, Mr. Hagerty understood what the original roofing must have looked like, including color and weight requirements.

His bid was not the lowest nor highest. Critical was his experience and references, and so we signed with his company for which we now understand we were quite fortunate. When his workmen took down the shingle tile roofing materials they discovered that unknown to us the original 83-year-old supporting structure had been damaged earlier and would not support the original heavier clay materials.

We did a quick assessment of bids for the new work, choosing Mark Abeln as the general contractor to rebuild the mansard roofing supports. We were extremely impressed with the work of both men and their companies in cooperating to get the job done well and within a time line that was made more difficult by an unexpectedly brutal cold snap. We took photos of the support work of Mr. Abeln as well as of the finished product, which we sent to Mr. Abeln as visual reference of the quality of workmanship he is capable of producing.

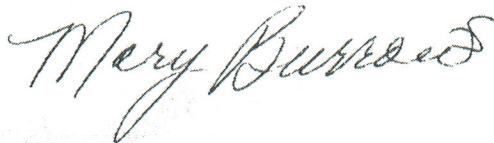

At the end of the project, both men gave us great feedback on color schemes to match the now completed green tiled roofing which was outstanding. We had neighbors and outsiders stop and comment on how beautifully restored our duplex was in the following weeks.

We would certainly use both men again if the need arose and wish to encourage other rehabbers or anyone looking for quality carpentry or roofing to consider their companies in the future,

Sincerely,

Herm Smith and Mary Burrows

Dear Mr. Hagerty,

My wife and I are delighted with the replacement of the slate roof on our home and of the composition roof on our garage and guest house. We think you and your employees are really wonderful!!!

Because you came with such high recommendations from several sources, we expected that you would provide a fine roof for us.

However, we could not have expected the extremely high level of courtesy and concern for our property which your men have consistently shown.

You were accurate in the estimate of the time it would take for you to begin and complete this project. The crew was very diligent in preventing damage to our extensive gardens around the home, and I think you saw that other workmen we hired for a separate project were careless in that regard. We greatly appreciate that your men did not cause any damage and in fact were extremely neat and careful in all respects. They were also very pleasant to speak with and extended us many courtesies, including moving our cars when we were not yet up and around in the early mornings and also bringing our newspapers to the door! Not many workmen would think of these nice touches, and they make such a difference.

I know that running a business is always difficult, but you have put together a great crew and you motivate them to do exceptionally fine work in a manner which is fast becoming lost in our society. The 'Old World' name is especially appropriate for your concern.

Please feel free to give my name as a reference any time you like.

Thank you very much,

F. Thomas Ott, M.D.

Dear Dan,

Merely paying your bill for the extensive roofing work your crew completed recently is truly inadequate. As always, they worked hard, cleaned up thoroughly, and provided professional results. But when we realized the breadth of their work, we were convinced that our bill would be significantly higher.

We'd like to thank you for taking such excellent care of our home over the past 16 years. Without your outstanding craftsmanship and professionalism, we'd probably be sporting a much less attractive alternative to slate.

Thank you again for your fine work, and for helping us to maintain this much-loved historic home.

Sincerely,

Dear Dan:

Your team has been at my home nearly 10 days and each day I am more comfortable and more impressed with their pride of workmanship, their knowledge, their professionalism, and most of all, their thoughtfulness. And their work is absolutely beautiful. I love to step back from my house and look up to see the finished areas of their work. The quality new slate gleams, which has been placed with obvious experience and care. I am curious to know if one could tell the difference in their work today and the craftsmen who originally built my home. My guess is that it equals or even excels that from 75 years ago.

Chuck, Mike and Jimmy treat my home as if it were their home. And I cannot even begin to tell you how much that means to me. They give attention to detail, cleanup, and any other related matter pertaining to my home. They let me know if there are other areas to be addressed and coordinate willingly and professionally with other contractors who are here to bring the work together. Furthermore, they problem solve with me to find the best solution. They consider the timeframe, the potential financial impact, and the effect on my home and family. And I am so grateful.

The men's work ethic is tremendous. They are measured, they are thoughtful, and they are neat. You must feel so blessed to have such individuals working with you. I imagine you share the same work ethic and attitude with all employees. And it comes through in their work for your clients.

I truly enjoy Chuck, Mike and Jimmy. They deserve the utmost respect and commendation for their work and interaction with your customers. And above all, they are very kind people and they are decent human beings. I am very grateful and I feel blessed to have met each one, and I can now say I know them. Thank you for introducing the guys to my home, and my family and me.

Sincerely,

Dear Dan:

At long last, our 94-year-old tile roof is as good as new. It took a long time and it wasn't cheap, but Abby and I are confident that the job was done right.

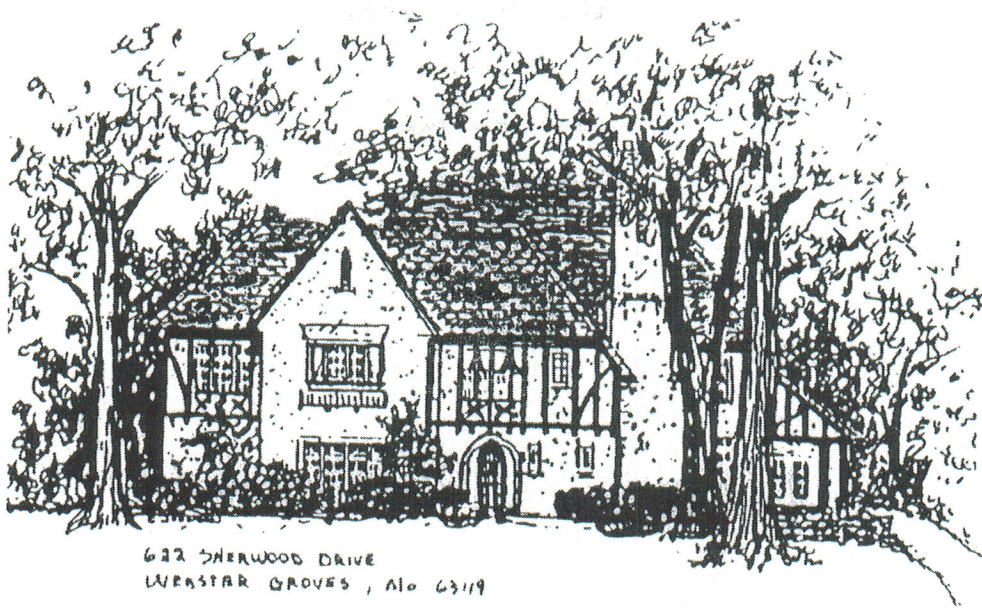

When we bought our house, we knew that the roof wasn't watertight. Of the three companies we asked for an opinion, only yours was correct. If we'd gone with one of the other bids, we're confident that we'd have only put Band-Aids on the damage. We're glad we were smart or lucky enough to choose Old World Roofing.

Beyond work that was appropriate and aesthetically pleasing, we thank you for a job done in a timely manner and on budget. For a job of this size, it was no mean feat. We thank you, too, for your availability throughout the project and for the professionalism, friendliness, courtesy and reliability of your staff. The fact that, throughout the time they were on the property, they cleaned up on a daily basis and unfailingly respected our property was especially appreciated.

Thanks again, Dan. And please don't hesitate to refer prospective future customers to Abby and me as enthusiastic references.

Sincerely,

Jeff Miller

Dear Dan,

The carriage house isn't on this drawing but you and your guys have really made it fit in. It looks as if that roof had been here since 1926.

It is a pleasure working with people who can take such justifiable pride in their work.

Dear Mr. Haggerty:

Recently several colleagues and I moved into new offices on the second and third floors of the Queen's Daughters Home at Saint Louis University School of Law. As you are aware, this project, repairing and renovating a 1890's Romanesque Mansion, involved unknown conditions and a demanding schedule.

I believe that the schedule was met only because of the skill and dedication of your workers and those of the other sub-contractors. I know that your dedication and direction were crucial too. This project required concentrated, extra effort and specialized expertise, both of which your company provided. I am proud of this project and of the work that is going into it. I want you to know that we greatly appreciate the role that Old World Roofing and your workers have played and are playing in making this building an important part of Saint Louis University School of Law. Best wishes for continued success.

Dear Mr. Hagerty,

We have heard with pleasure of the award given to Old World Roofing Company. The award for craftsmanship given by AIA-CPC is well deserved by you and your company. We are delighted with the object of inquiry -- the Buck roof -- and wish to add our congratulations to that of the Association.

In a word, the Buck House roof is gorgeous! As we walk by and marvel at the craftsmanship and at the sensitivity of the work of your people, we are in awe. Principia wishes to express its appreciation for the integrity and dedication you have brought to your work for Principia.

Jamie Bollinger has told me of the many fine jobs that Old World has completed at the College, and the list is very impressive. Everyone on our campus has appreciated working with your people and with you. Here's to more great roofs!

And The Winners Are...

The 1995 AIA/CPC Design Awards, sponsored by the AIA St. Louis and the Construction Products Council, celebrated excellence in design, craftsmanship, and architectural drawing. This year also marked the second consecutive year the 25 Year Award has been presented.

In all, 20 projects garnered recognition at the Oct. 16 ceremony. This year's recipients and comments from the judges, included:

CRAFTSMANSHIP AWARDS

Honor Award
Buck Building New Roof
Principia College
Elsah, IL
Old World Roofing Co.

The craftsmen for this Principia College project had a unique chal-

tile roof. Not only were the use and placement of various colors of tiles critical, the installation of the rather bulky, sometimes irregular tiles needed to replicate the original roof. Working with the new tiles, the roofers were able to maintain the matted color shade movements through the roof from dark on the bottom to lighter shades and streaks to the top. The ridge caps were replicated with the distinctive oozing mortar joints. The ultimate praise for the historical replication job was that the judges agreed that the "finished product looks as though it were the original."

Craftsmen directly responsible for designing, laying out, fabricating and/or installing the work were: Dan Hagerty, owner and master roofer; Chuck Vincent, foreman; Ron Jaramillo; Roger Meyer; John Chiapelas; and Freeman Morris. Bernard R. Maybeck was the project's original architect; Jamie B. Bollinger was the architectural preservationist.

Dear Dan:

I wish to extend our appreciation for the outstanding workmanship and craftsmanship that your firm exhibited in installing the Ludowici tile roof on our home. As you know, this was a home designed by Ralph Fournier and constructed by Higginbotham Brothers, Inc. We have received numerous compliments on the appearance of the roof and we are very pleased with your expertise. We would not hesitate to recommend your firm to anyone desiring first class roof installation or repair of any kind.

To whom it may concern:

Mr. Dan Haggerty's company, Old World Roofing, renovated our 60 year old clay tile roof during August, 1987. The tile was removed, the underlay and all flashing replaced, and the tile put back. We were very pleased with the job.

Mr. Haggerty was very good at explaining options available and how the work would be done. He responded promptly to phone calls and willingly answered questions. He and his workmen were careful to leave the job site clean each day and were considerate of our neighbors.

We recommend your consideration of Old World Roofing.

Dear Mr. Hagerty:

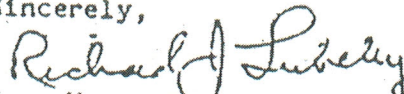

This is just to let you know how much we appreciate the work you recently did for us. As you know, we had extensive work to be done on the church, school and rectory.

We appreciate your cooperation and concern - especially the concern in matching the old tile. The results show that you were successful.

We have had some rainy weather since the completion of this job. Thus far there is no evidence of any failure in your work. We certainly had problems before you came. Your work was done in a professional manner.

If you ever need a recommendation, just let me know.

Sincerely,

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Mr. Dan Hagerty, owner of Old World Roofing Company, has done a major roofing job at my residence at 22 Hillvale in Clayton, Missouri. The roof work he accomplished required replacing of approximately 1000 large slates and complete replacement of copper valleys, plus the addition of copper caps along all the exposed joints.

This was a large job, taking almost a month of labor by Mr. Hagerty and his assistant. The work was done to absolute perfection. No corners were cut; no inferior materials substituted for those called for in the original proposal. In short, I feel totally confident in making this highest recommendation of Mr. Hagerty's honesty and his superior skill as a roofing specialist. Most specifically, I would suggest that if you have a roof requiring thorough repair or maintenance (and most especially an expensive slate roof), you will benefit from a complete job performed by Mr. Hagerty's Old World Roofing Company.

You may call me personally for further, more detailed discussion of the work done on my residence. I will reiterate that I feel you could not get a better job performed by any other roofer in the city of St. Louis!

To Whom It May Concern:

Please be advised that I have known Dan Haggerty for approximately five (5) years. Dan was recommended to me by an attorney, John Chancellor, when I experienced roofing problems at an apartment I owned at 7246 Pershing. Dan responded promptly to my problem. He was able to fix the tile roof by replacing the cracked tiles and underlayment, where needed, and by replacing copper flashing where needed. Dan did an excellent job and thoroughly explained to me the procedure he was performing.

This year I have once again employed Dan's services for repair of a slate roof at my own home. I am more than satisfied with the work that Dan has performed and highly recommend him.

If you have any questions concerning the work Dan has performed for me, please don't hesitate to call me.

Yours very truly,

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to state that Mr. Dan Hagerty, founder of the newly-formed "Old World Roofing Company", has done considerable tile-slate roofing work for this parish of which I am pastor. His workmanship has been in our experience of the highest quality and I would not hesitate for a moment to recommend him. Any future such work we may need done will certainly be directed to his company.

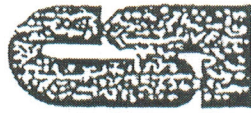

In addition to the quality of Dan's work, his punctuality and faithfulness to his word are outstanding. I might add, we have always found him reasonable in the cost of his workmanship.

Should you be in need of the type of roofing Dan specializes in, I would recommend him without qualification.

Dear Dan:

Please consider using my wife and I as a reference for your roofing services. Your work on our slate roof was top quality. All the materials used were the best grade materials.

Work was completed ahead of schedule with no problems or delays. The entire area around our house was cleaned each day so that we were never bothered by pieces of roofing materials on the yard or shrubbery.

Your price was very competitive, lower than all other bids.

Thanks again for a great job.
